About The Author: Heather Christie

Heather Christie grew up in rural Pennsylvania, and at the age of seventeen took off to New York City in hope of becoming a movie star. Flash forward several decades, a couple of degrees, a bunch of cats, two kids, and one husband later, she's back in PA writing her heart out and chasing dreams. She loves to read, run, drink tea, and make Sunday dinner.

Millington Valley is a quintessential small Pennsylvania town: families go back generations. Football rules. Kids drink while adults look the other way. High school is a whirlwind of aspiration and rivalry, friendship and jealousy.

When smart and pretty Molly Hanover moves to town and attracts the attention of the football team's hero, Wade Thornton—a nice guy with a bad drinking habit—longtime friendships are threatened and a popular cheerleader tries to turn the school against Molly.

The young couple's future is shattered when Wade, drunk, wrecks his truck and Molly is thrown through the windshield. She wakes from a coma to find her beauty marred and her memory full of holes. As she struggles to heal, she becomes sure that something terrible happened before the accident. And there is somebody in the valley who doesn't want her to remember.
